The Red Cloud Nation by J. P. Hale was sold to the Red Cloud Chief last week. The Nation was the only democratic paper in Webster county and is no more, being merged with the Chief, to be known only as the Chief. Red Cloud now has only three newspapers, all republican in politics. Fact is that since Bryan has got to endorsing the Roosevelt policies, Hale of the Nation could see no use for a democratic paper.—Smith County Messenger.

Not exactly correct, but —

The W. C. T. U. rally at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon was quite a lively affair. Some of the music by the male quartette was very taking.

The addresses by Saylor and Cvering were particularly bright and pointed; One speaker took occasion to pitch into the moving picture show in a senseless way. That ought to serve as a good advertisement. He failed, however, to show the connection between his remarks and the object of the meeting.

The meeting lasted an hour and a half which is rather too long for Sunday afternoon, for those who go to church twice on that day.

Ed Amack and Dr. Nelson caused considerable excitement and amusement at the depot Sunday morning. No. 16 was about an hour late and a large crowd had gathered. Ed and Dr. were horseback. Ed dared Dr. to ride full speed down the depot platform. Dr. took the dare and off they went. George Hollister happened to be at the west end of the platform and the boys almost ran over him. George dared the boys to come back and off they went again, then George turned the hose on them. They ran back and forth several times and the crowd grew larger. The time went so fast that before they knew it, the train whistled in and the fun was over.

The Chief joins them in wishing him abundant success in his new field.

The seriousness of our school condition is apparent to all and we believe that the people of this district should come to a definite plan of action and that right speedily, we offer as a solution a public mass meeting. We are confident that the real trouble confronting us is a misunderstanding as to what is at issue. Let us have a meeting at once and let the board of education and the men who have instituted the suit against the bonds be in attendance and present the matter to the voters and let us get together. Anything is better than nothing and what ever is done must be done at once. Prof. Moritz is in a position to help. Let him be there. Let us all be there.
